

British School of Bahrain students and their parents enjoyed reading Arabic books in the open air over three sessions at the school's campus in Hamala. The event, part of the Arabic Reading Challenge Competition, was organised by the Junior Arabic Department at the school and was spread over three days. Above, parents, teachers and students who took part in the event. Right, children listen to one of the stories.